The school year just closed has been one of fair prosperity ; indeed, we think there has been an increasing educational interest. This is manifest in the increased amount of private instruction given during the year. While in all the districts there have been schools of the usual length through the year, in some there have been private schools of several weeks in length, maintained by the tuition of scholars or subscription of generous and appreciative citizens of the district. This we regard a favorable indication of an increased interest in the value and appreciation of education. We can but hope that this interest will continue and increase, until it shall result in the establishing of a high school, of such character as to meet the wants of our pupils and reflect honor upon our town. Too long as a town have we been suffering for the want of such a school. We would urge action, on the part of the town, that in co-operation with the trustees of the Ladd Fund, that fund itself, or its proceeds, may avail to meet our present necessities. The usual hindrances to successful school work have been felt to quite an extent in some districts ; the principal of these is absentism. See percentage of daily attendance in statistical table.

From observation and experience in school management, we are more and more convinced of the benefit that would result to our schools, were they under the exclusive control of a Board of Education, or Supt. School Committee consisting of three or five members. The advantages of such school management have already been shown in former reports. Under the present system the value and efficiency of our schools would be promoted would the prudential committee consult with the superintending committee before employing teachers.

A change in the Geographies used as text books has been made the past year. Harper's School Geographies have been introduced ; a series admirably adapted for school instruction in this important study. They give the population of the largest cities of our country as reported by the census of 1880. The admission of new States into the Union and the rapid growth of some cities would seem to warrant the utility of a change of text books in this department of study, as often as every decade, if we would have our pupils intelligently instructed.

A new school house has been built in Dist. No. 5 at a cost of one thousand dollars. The school room is light, pleasant, attractive, convenient, with a seating capacity of 48 pupils, well supplied with means for ventilation, not sufficiently supplied with blackboard space ; yet with its modern improvements in seats and teacher's desk is the best in town. We would urge upon the citizens of Dist. No. 1 the necessity of building a new school house. Both houses are needing extensive repairs. The location of the southerly one is very unpleasant and is becoming unhealthy. The children are deprived of their rights by the yard being filled with wood and appurtenances of brick yards. The school room at times in summer is filled with smoke from brick kilns rendering it unfit for a place of study. We believe it an unjustifiable abuse to compel children to attend school in a place so forbidding and unhealthy.

The teachers generally deserve a word of commendation. All have labored faithfully in the discharge of their important duties. Some should receive the charity due to inexperience which we gladly give them. We have some superior teachers in town and we would advise their employment in our schools for the ensuing year. We have been considerably annoyed by some teachers not returning their registers at the proper time, in one case not at all. To obviate this difficulty we would call the attention of all teachers and prudential committees to the statute printed upon the title page of every register, and urge a strict compliance therewith, viz : "Every teacher at the close of his school and at the end of each term thereof, shall make a return of such register or record to the school committee of the town, who shall give to him a certificate thereof ; and no teacher shall receive payment for his services until such certificate is produced and delivered to the prudential committee."—General Laws, Chap. 89, Sect. 16.
